Millerism—Trances—Poetry.

There has been much said in private conversation, and in public meetings of the believers in "Miller's Doctrine," of the wonderful matters that have transpired in Barkerville, a village in the suburbs of this city. It appears that some women there, at the Miller meetings, have been thrown into what are called trances, and while in this state have astonished many people by uttering their thoughts in what has been styled the "sublimest strains of lofty poetry."

We have been furnished with a large amount of these Miller jinglings, taken at the time of their utterance and approved after they were written out by those who considered the whole matter as not a whit short of direct inspiration from the Almighty.

The following is about a fair specimen of the whole batch:

"The end is soon, it's very nigh
And some will weep and some will sigh
Then they'll say how can I bear
To dwell forever in despair."

If his power you do deny
Your hearts he'll never purify
The word of God is always true
Daniels book you must read through.

In the year of Jubilee
His ministers bound, they will go free
Because he knows that they are true
And he knows he's in their view."

As we have no belief that such kind of jingling would be tolerated in Heaven it is not worth while for us to print more of it.

Delegates to the Mechanic State Convention.

The Mechanic Association in this city on Friday evening last, chose the following delegates to attend the Mechanic State Convention to be held at Portland on the twentieth day of August. It is probable they will all attend.

Wm. S. Mitchell, E. T. Fox, J. C. Mitchell, Elijah Low Jr., E. C. Baker, Henry S. Brown, Charles Sawtelle, Andrew Wiggin, Ansel Leighton, A. R. Hallows, Nathan Perry, J. R. Macomber, Isaac S. Whitman, John M. Lougee, Geo. W. Merrill, John S. Sayward, Michael Gilligan, O. S. Beale, Luther M. Pitcher, Ephraim S. Blake, William Hall, Rufus Prince, William Bartlett, Wm. J. Lawrence, Matthew S. Randall, Asa H. Norton, Thomas Stone, Levi S. Emerson, Winslow Chase.

From the New Orleans Tropic.

Our Victory.

New Orleans a Whig City.

The result of the election on Monday, is one upon which we can justly demand the congratulations of our friends throughout the Union. View it as we may, it is a most signal and glorious triumph; a triumph achieved at a moment when our friends, at home and abroad, had made up their minds for a defeat. Here it was that John Tyler's treasonable treaty of annexation was to sweep every thing before it. Here, in the city of New Orleans, the Texas fever was to burn up every vestige of whiggery, and leave the ground fresh and clear for that interesting plant called the Polk stalk!

The locofocos abandoned every other question, they gave up all their principles, and made the issue Polk, Dallas and Texas! It was their war cry throughout the fight; they rallied under the Texas banner, and under it they have been woefully beaten. In spite of the fraud and violence they practiced at the polls, in spite of the hundreds of good whig voters who have been disfranchised, we have routed locofocoism and Texas. We have demonstrated that New Orleans is a Whig city, and we now pledge eight hundred majority for Henry Clay in November next!

Our friends abroad will remember that in the parish of Orleans, the polls are open only one day—in all other portions of the State, the balloting is continued during three days. Consequently, we can give no report of the result in any congressional district until that time has expired.

It will be seen that the whigs have carried a majority of both tickets—thirteen of the twenty-one persons who were to be elected. Mr. Russell, the Whig who has obtained the largest vote, has a majority over the lowest locofoco of two hundred and eighty-nine! Our average majority is somewhat more than one hundred votes.

The Bee says—

Victory.

Although incomplete, the Whigs of New Orleans have triumphed handsomely. But for the outrages, noticed elsewhere, the vote yesterday would have been overwhelming. The whigs would have elected every member of their ticket by tremendous majorities. Had the elections proceeded legally in any one of the wards in which it was disturbed, every whig would have been returned. As it is, a majority of our legislative ticket is elected and nearly the whole of the Convention candidates. Be of good cheer, whigs of the Union, Louisiana will do her duty in November.

Death of the Rev. Dr. Grant.

The New York Commercial says: "We regret to say that from information communicated to us this morning, there is little room to doubt the death of Dr. Grant at Mosul, early in June. We have conversed with a gentleman who read a letter brought by the last steamer, written by the medical attendant of Dr. Grant and addressed to a friend of the Doctor's then in London. It announced that Dr. Grant was severely ill for about two weeks and that during most of the time he was not sensible of what was passing around him. Through the greater part of his illness he appeared to imagine himself engaged in preaching to the Nestorians."

The Loco Foco editor of the Holy Springs (Miss) Banner made some invidious remarks the other day about the presentation of a banner to the Whigs by a young lady. Thereupon the ladies of the town sent him a leather medal for his gallantry.

Mr. Wm. C. Rives said, we learn on Monday last at Court, that there were over one hundred men in the county of Albemarle or in the Democratic party superior to Gov. Polk—morally, politically and intellectually. (Charlotteville Jeffersonian)

A very sensible and just remark of Mr. Rives.

Why is a benevolent man like a cart horse? Because he stops at the sound of a voice.

Louisiana Election.

In the Second Congressional District, Algiers gives Thibodeaux, whig for Congress 9 votes; Labranche, loco, 89. Last year, 5 whig and 52 loco. Jefferson Parish gives Thibodeaux 230, Labranche 244. Labranche's majority in this parish, 14; last year 54.

The Tropic says. From all the information in our possession, we are certain that Thibodeaux is elected to Congress by a majority of from five hundred to one thousand votes.

Comparing the present vote with that of last year, Labranche has lost 40 votes in Jefferson, and gained 33 in Algiers. Net loss in these two parishes, 7.

He has also lost in the 2d Municipality of N. Orleans, according to different statements, from 12 to 50. His maj. in the whole district was then 49. Seven more parishes to be heard from.

Nothing yet from the 4th district. In the 1st and 3d the loco candidates are reelected without opposition.

In the Senatorial District composed of St. Bernard and Plaquemines, Maunsell White loco is elected to the Senate. St. Bernard has elected a Whig to the House, and Plaquemines a loco. Point Coupee is slated to have elected a Whig; if so, a Whig gain.

In St. John the Baptiste, our candidates for Legislature and Convention are elected, and a majority for Thibodeaux.

From St. Tammany our information is of the most cheering character, and there is but little doubt that we have defeated Thos. Green Davidson for the Senate, and elected our candidates for the Legislature and the Convention.

From the Mormon Country.—Latest Intelligence.

Quincy, (Ill.) June 29, 1844.

To-day the Governor arrived here—and the whole county is on the qui vive for action. All the children have been brought here and elsewhere for safety, and no man feels himself safe near the seat of this tragical revolution.

We have meetings three or four times a day; every gun, pistol and sword is in requisition. We feel safe here, being so far removed, but if the Mormons (2000 strong) attempt the slightest insurrection, they will be exterminated—Some say they are cowed, and fear to move, others say they are preparing for war, and summoning the forces from other quarters.

Affairs at Philadelphia.

On Thursday night all was quiet, although there was much excitement on account of the presence of military and inflammable indications at Kensington.

Select and Common Councils have just passed an act, appropriating $38,000 for the arming and equipping of a Regiment of Infantry, a Battalion of Artillery and one or more Troops of Horse, the whole to consist of 1,000 men, to put down all outbreaks that may hereafter occur.

Several arrests have been made and many public meetings have been held.

FROM MEXICO.

The New Orleans Courier of the 3d inst. has later intelligence from Mexico.

The minister of war had asked four millions of dollars and 30,000 men for the Texas expedition. The government is determined to make an attempt to re-conquer Texas.

The expedition of Gen. Sentanant against Tobasco has ended suddenly and tragically, in the death of its chief, as will be seen by the following:

VERA CRUZ, June 17.

We learn that the general commandant of this department has received official news that the brig which bore Sentanant, briskly pursued by the ship of war Santa Anna, was thrown upon the coast of Tobasco, between the bar of Chistepic and the principal bar, and that the said Sentanant, accompanied by seventy or eighty adventurers, some with arms, some without, were compelled precipitately to abandon their vessel and betake themselves to the mountains.

From Philadelphia.

Every thing remains perfectly quiet, and nothing has occurred since the advices already laid before the reader.

The "Inquirer" of Wednesday gives an account of an intended important movement of the People, without regard to party feelings or distinctions, and in support of the Law and the Authorities. An able declaration has been drawn up by one of the purest and most distinguished citizens of Phila., in which are embodied views, feelings and principles suited to the crisis. This has already been signed by a large number of citizens, and it was probable that in the course of the day thousands of additional signatures would be added. Of course the troops remains under arms, as before related.

Roll on this Ball.

Whenever a loco speaks to you of James K. Polk's being in favor of a Protective Tariff, hold up to him the following extract from the Nashville Union, the organ of Polkism now, as it was of Van Burenism lately.

"We wish it borne in mind, that the oppressive Tariff of 1842 has been condemned by every true Democrat and by none more decidedly than Mr. Van Buren. That his provisions are viewed with abhorrence by Governor Polk and his friends we need not repeat."

Marine Casualty.

The brig Tucker, Captain Lovell, from Boston with ice for this port, consigned to J. Turo, while in tow of the steamer Clubine, coming up the river, struck a snag. When it was found that she was filling she was run into shoal water, where she sunk to her deck. Her cargo will be totally lost, but the vessel, it is thought, will be raised. [Piscataway July 3d]

Fire in Lowell.

There was a destructive fire in Lowell on Monday afternoon the loss from which is estimated at 10,000, and by which from fifteen to twenty families were left without shelter. It broke out in a stable in Union street, Chappel Hill owned by Mr. A. F. Dyr. Two valuable horses were burnt to death. Mr. Dyr was insured to the amount of $2,400 at the Middlesex Mutual Office.

Our thanks are due to Jerome & Co's and to Gilman's Express for Boston and New York papers received by the last boat in advance of the Mail.

Good Spunk.

On Saturday night a young lady, who had just retired to bed in a dwelling house in the central portion of Hartford, was alarmed by the apparition of a man with a dark lantern. He came from behind a curtain stretched across one corner of the room, and commenced filling his sock coat pockets with spoils, dresses, &c., tying up what he could not thus dispose of, in a bundle. He finally approached the bed, and received a pitcher, taken from a stand at the head of the bed, and its contents, on the side of the head, from the hands of the damsel. He fled forthwith, leaving part of his booty, and draping the remainder on his way down stairs.

Friends of Protection, Mark the difference!

Mr. CLAY. "The Tariff of 1842 has been bitterly denounced, and gross epithets applied to it. Its repeal was pronounced to be a favorite object of our political opponents. They have a majority of some fifty or sixty in the House. A bill to repeal that Tariff has been introduced, and is now before the present session of Congress. At yet yesterday, on the test vote, a majority of the House decided against the repealing bill, leaving the Tariff of 1842 in full and undisturbed operation. This is a very curious result, especially when this would be opposite to the reason home valuation, will afford and beneficence of Whig policy sufficient protection to the producers of the country, and the enlightened opinion of the people."

Mr. POLK. "I AM OPPOSED TO THE TARIFF ACT OF THE LATE CONGRESS, considering it to be in many respects of this character—and indeed so highly protective upon some articles as to prohibit their importation into the country altogether. I am in favor of repealing that Act, and restoring the Compromise Tariff Act of March 2d, 1833, believing as I do, that test vote, a majority of the House decided against the repealing bill, leaving the Tariff of 1842 in full and undisturbed operation. This is a very curious result, especially when this would be opposite to the reason home valuation, will afford and beneficence of Whig policy sufficient protection to the producers of the country, and the enlightened opinion of the people."

Mr. CLAY is in favor of sustaining the present Tariff, while Mr. POLK is for repealing it, and adopting in its stead a horizontal impost of twenty per cent. Mechanics of Maine and of the Union! be not deluded by words but look to things. Which Tariff do you prefer?
